

RUN ON BANK FAILS TO AID TOBACCO WAR

Other Institutions and Individuals Put Money In Faster Than It Is Withdrawn.

GROWERS STORM MARKET

Serious Situation at Lexington, Ky., and Other Points—Governor May Act.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 6.—With threats and tramping of tobacco marking one attempt at selling tobacco on a Kentucky market, danger seen at another point when sales were started, a run on a Lexington bank and the gathering of leaf growers from all over the white bluff district, the tobacco situation to-night is full of possibilities of trouble. No attempt has been made to reopen the big market.

A run was started on the Bank of Commerce here early to-day when rumors were circulated that the institution was in difficulties. The other banks in Lexington sent aid immediately, while individuals made heavy deposits. Hundreds of persons drew their money, but seven tellers were paying it out as rapidly as checks were presented.

Money was piled inside all the cages in view. One hundred thousand dollars was forwarded from Cincinnati as a precaution. After three men had deposited nearly $60,000 the spirit changed, and while some withdrew there was a rush of others to get their funds back in the bank. The Bank of Commerce has more than $2,000,000 in resources and $250,000 deposits. The Clearing House Association at noon issued a statement that the bank is entirely solvent.

Late this afternoon the Grand Jury entered into special session to determine if possible who started the rumor against the bank.

At Walton 2,000 tobacco growers stormed the warehouse when an auction started. Low prices ruled, and the growers rushed over the floors, grinding thousands of pounds of tobacco into the mire. The sale was called off.

Carrollton farmers were equally excited, forcing sales to suspend there and declaring for the holding of the 1920 crop from sales and for no crop this year.

At Eminence there was almost an outbreak, but wiser counsel prevailed. From every part of the district to-night come reports that farmers on their way here for a convention to-morrow are for cutting out this year's crop. The convention will be attended by thousands. Bankers and warehousemen will hold a separate meeting in hope of finding a plan for relieving the situation.

Gov. Morrow late to-day let it be known that a suggestion had been made to him that a conference might solve the crisis. He said the source of the suggestion was not official, however, but his guarded language indicated that something might be expected if the growers are not able to settle the matter here to-morrow. Gov. Morrow congratulated the State on never having been in trouble so far in connection with the situation.

FIRE IN SKYSCRAPER
THRILLS BROADWAY

Only a Tar Barrel, but It Made Lots of Smoke.

Everybody in the lower Broadway district who wasn't chained to a desk ran out just before noon to gaze at the Curran Building, under construction at 35 Broadway, which was enveloped in smoke. Twenty-two stories up a barrel of tar had caught fire and the gusty wind carried thick fumes like a blanket over the face of the structure. The fire was soon out, but the spectators had a bigger thrill when iron workers, riveters and masons decided to entertain the crowd and began racing along the girders, swinging from cranes over the roof edge, flirting with death. When the noon whistle blew they slid down ropes to the ground.

WAR TABLETS FOR CHAPLAINS.

Boston, Jan. 6.—The erection of a bronze tablet in the State House in commemoration of two hero chaplains of the world war was proposed in a resolve presented in the House to-day. The chaplains, the Rev. Father John H. DeValles of New Bedford and the Rev. Warren C. Barker of Worcester, were with the Yankee division.
